

Delaware Watercolor Society Supports the Arts through a Donation to West Side New Beginnings

A check in the amount of $1,000 was presented by the Delaware Watercolor Society to West Side New Beginnings, Inc. for afterschool and summer youth art programs. The mission of Delaware Watercolor Society is to focus on exploring, creating, and sharing the wonders of watercolor and other water-media with artists from Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Washington DC. The society also commits to the promotion of watercolor by providing opportunities for education and mentoring through community outreach programs. With this donation Delaware Watercolor Society is happy to support the promotion and awareness of the arts, by providing the financing for needed supplies for the children and youth served by West Side New Beginnings.

The core mission of West Side New Beginnings is to promote literacy, learning and health by providing wholesome afterschool and summer activities for the children of West Rehoboth and the surrounding area. The donation by Delaware Watercolor Society will help meet this goal.

Delaware Watercolor Society Board members, Pat Hoey and Charlotte Hughes made the presentation on May 13, 2021 to Diaz Bonville, Co-founder and Brenda Milbourne, Executive Director at the West Side New Beginnings headquarters, 19801 Norwood St, Rehoboth, DE.
